

A formally unidentified dimension was discovered 2 days prior, this dimension is a parallel mirror of the real world, albeit, it's a more "gloomy" and apocalyptic look to it. After conducting a survey of the world, it was discovered that various minor gods reside in the dimension, both identified and unidentified.

Expedition 1

The expedition consisted of 3 men: Joel, Musa, and Enrique.

The expedition of the parallel world began when the facility opened a portal on the floor.

The crew would go to the portal and turn their feed on.

The crew would wander in the area, they note that the area appeared to be a city (Later analysis state the city resembles Indianapolis)

The crew would begin traversing across the world, in which they document how the dimension appears to be like Earth, but more post-apocalyptic, with the weather akin to a nuclear winter.

As the crew continued to wander, their feed began to cut.

To solve the technical difficulties, one of the team members sent Tomas, an anthro kangaroo/cat hybrid technician to the dimension to repair any potential technical difficulties the crew faced.

Tomas would wander to the path of the crew, he notes how bleak the dimension appears.

As he moves closer, Tomas notices something enormous in the alley way.

He looked and it's some large entity of sorts. (Later analysis indicated it's some kind of zombie god of sorts)

Tomas begins screaming from the feed. The crew would find Tomas in the scene 5 minutes later.

The crew would return to Tomas, in which he (Tomas) would act abnormally.

Tomas would grab a scalp and begin to use his prosthetic arm to rip his face off.

Tomas would die 2 minutes later due to blood loss.

As a cleanup crew was sent, Tomas' body would randomly get up and attempt to attack the personnel in the lab.

The undead Tomas would later be put down via gunshot to the head.

The expedition was considered a failure due to this incident.

Expedition 2

The expedition began when 4 people: Henry, Issac, Randall and Jeff were sent down to the dimension.

The crew notes that they were in some giant city of sorts (Analysis identified the city to be New York City)

5 minutes into the expedition, the crew was attacked by bat-like creatures. The crew were able to fend off the creatures via gunfire.

The crew hears an ear-piercing sound, all four look into the horizon and notice an enormous serpent creature with a head of a lion. The 4 crew members would immediately flee back to the portal.

After the second expedition, any and all plans for further expeditions were cancelled due to safety concerns.
