FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Lopes da Silva Holdings Engages SAVVY Capital Management to Support Soap-Stream Development

LEWES, Del. — [July 16, 2026] — Lopes da Silva Holdings, Inc. today announced that it has engaged SAVVY Capital Management, LLC to provide capital formation and investor relations services in support of Soap-Stream, a proposed subscription-based streaming platform dedicated to the preservation, curation, and global distribution of classic daytime dramas.

Currently under development, Soap-Stream is designed to provide structured, rights-cleared access to historically significant daytime television programming while creating a sustainable framework for the long-term monetization of legacy content libraries through strategic licensing partnerships.

“From the beginning, Soap-Stream has been envisioned as more than a streaming platform,” said Geoffrey Lopes da Silva, President & Chief Executive Officer of Lopes da Silva Holdings, Inc. “Our objective is to preserve an important chapter of television history while building a sustainable business that creates long-term value for audiences, content owners, and investors alike.”

Under the engagement, SAVVY Capital Management will provide strategic advisory services related to capital formation and investor relations as Lopes da Silva Holdings advances the platform through its next phase of development.

“Soap-Stream reflects a disciplined business strategy built around an underserved segment of the streaming marketplace,” said Vito Renaldi, Managing Member & Chief Executive Officer of SAVVY Capital Management, LLC. “We are pleased to support Lopes da Silva Holdings by providing capital formation and investor relations services as the company continues to develop the platform.”
